TECHNOLOGIES

We empower people to make life changing health transformations through our unique proprietary products.

It All Starts with Nature's Most Amazing Molecule, Acemannan

Alovéa AE™ (Acemannan Extract) is our flagship technology. It provides the highest level of immune-optimizing molecules to help support your body's unique functions of defense and repair.

Through our Buy 1, Nourish 1™ platform for social impact, every time an Alovéa product is purchased a vulnerable child receives a 28-day supply of an Acemannan-based product to support their fragile immune system. In areas of the world where modern health care is not readily available, this intervention has often proven to be a life saving strategy.

We Give Hope to Children Facing Impossible Odds

Consider these Facts:

- Immune deficiency, caused mainly by malnourishment and poor sanitation, makes children highly susceptible to chronic and infectious diseases.
- Over 7 million children die every year from these conditions while tens of millions more become disabled or mentally challenged for life.
- The rise of chronic and infectious diseases continues as a growing world challenge.

How can we positively impact these challenges?

First, optimize your own health with Alovéa's products.

Alovéa then matches what you consume, serving for serving, with the same advanced nutritional support for a child in need.

Our Buy 1, Nourish 1™ model of social giving is at the very heart of our Social Business mission. Consumers receive the best nourishment that science has to offer while providing a sustainable funding mechanism for meeting the needs of children, who without our support, have little hope of achieving and maintaining good health.
